A EXERCISE • 實戰演練

Question: Where would you recommend to your foreign friends to visit in your hometown?

Taiwan's night market is definitely a place worth visiting. The night market is a very famous place known for its food. In every night market, you'll find dozens of food stalls serving up all kinds of delicious treats. You can usually buy a small portion of whatever treat is on sale. Popcorn chicken has always been my favorite. Squid balls and green onion pancakes are very good too. And don't forget to try stinky tofu. Not just food, the night market has everything. It has fashion and clothing, household items, souvenirs... just about anything you could want. It's a wonderful cultural experience.
